

Nonfiction Reading Power Workshop

November 16, 2016, 9:00 am - 3:00 pm

Linking Thinking to Reading in the Content Areas

Join B.C. author, teacher and literacy consultant Adrienne Gear for another dynamic Reading Power workshop. In this full day session, Adrienne will explain the key concepts of Reading Power and the levels of understanding – from literal to interactive - as well as show how Reading Power fits with the re-designed curriculum. She will focus on specific reading strategies to support readers of nonfiction including: Zoom In (to Nonfiction Features), Determine Importance, Making Connections, Questioning and Transform. She will share lessons, student samples and recommended anchor books to support the lessons. As always, Adrienne’s sessions are very practical so you will leave with lessons you can use in your classroom tomorrow!

Adrienne Gear has been a teacher in Vancouver for over 20 years. She continues to teach part time, as well as to provide workshops, demonstration lessons and leadership training to teachers in the area of literacy. She is the author of four professional books for teachers: Reading Power, Nonfiction Reading Power, Writing Power and Nonfiction Writing Power (Pembroke Publishing) and has recently revised her first book Reading Power. Adrienne is passionate about reflecting and refining her literacy practices and encourages teachers to do the same. She has presented across Canada as well as in the US, UK and Sweden. Her books have been translated into French, Swedish, Danish, and Chinese. Adrienne lives in Vancouver with her husband and their two boys.

Registration/ Information:

Go to our Upcoming Events calendar (<http://setbc.link?upcomingevents>) and click on November 16th to find the link to online registration. We will be adding other locations in October – click the “Upcoming Events” link in the online registration area to find a location near you!

Registration deadline November 9th, 2016

Questions? E-mail SETconciierge at conciierge@setbc.org