

A Busy Start to the New School Year

SET-BC's New Service Delivery Model - Challenges and Opportunities

It's been a busy, challenging, inspiring, and surprising two months as we implement the new three tiered service delivery model across the province. Some aspects of the new model have moved forward without a hitch, other aspects have had a few glitches, while still others have been downright bumpy. We are learning, alongside district teams, how best to plan and deliver our Tier 1, 2 and 3 services effectively. We are very appreciative of the patience and support being offered as we make our way through this first year of implementation.
